CBNA- Western 2022

- Community

Canadian Black Nurses Alliance- Western University's main goal is to provide a community of support for all nursing students with a special emphasis on black nursing students. Providing a place of comfort within Western University.

- Representation

Representation within the nursing program and profession is a long standing issue, with the aid of our external parent organization the Canadian Black Nurses Alliance we aim to make our school community and nursing in general more representative of the diverse community we serve.

- Diversity

Diversity is the main theme of this club. CBNA- Western is a safe space for black nursing students and allies. We aim to provide equitable access to resources and prepare black nursing students for their future profession through mentorship
